

THE AOMSI FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMME

Aims and Objectives (Mission statement):

Maxillofacial Trauma and Orthognathic Surgery are considered important part of the core curriculum in Maxillo-facial surgical training, the world over. However by no means can it be confidently asserted, that all our trainees acquire adequate knowledge and skills to independently manage these problems at the end of their training. On the contrary, even adequate exposure to some of the aspects of these sub –specialties might be lacking in a number of training programs. In order to address this issue, the AOMSI wishes to start Hands-on training programs in the sub-specialties of Maxillo-facial Trauma and Orthognathic Surgery.

Name of the Program: 1) Fellowship in Maxillo-facial Trauma
2) Fellowship in Orthognathic Surgery

Period of Training (proposed) : One year duration

Eligibility:

Trainee: 1) The candidates should have an MDS in Oral and Maxillo-facial surgery or equivalent and should have been qualified for less than 3 years.

2) Should be a life member of the AOMSI.

3) Should be selected by a due process of selection by the AOMSI Fellowship Committee as a suitable candidate who needs training.

Course Curriculum: At the end of the training the candidates should be able to independently manage routine cases of Trauma or Facial deformities as the case may be (Detailed curriculum attached separately)

Training Centers: AOMSI invites applications from centers of excellence in the sub–specialties to be the training centers. Currently one centre for Orthognathic surgery and one centre for

Trauma will be recognized. (The details of the requirements to be a recognized training center and how to apply are attached separately)

FUNDING: The trainees will be paid an educational grant, roughly equivalent to that of a lecturer in a Dental college. The funds could come directly from the coffers of the AOMSI or from industry partners or both.

AOMSI hereby invites you to apply for recognition of your centre for these training fellowships. Please send your application form in the prescribed format to prithamshetty@gmail.com latest by 15th MARCH 2016. You will hear from us shortly thereafter.
